

Useful Tips To Manage Your Teens' Gaming Addiction

Do not put any video game equipment in your teen's bedroom

Limit your own screen time to be a good role model

Set restrictions on your teen's game-playing time and frequency

Take the initiative to organize family activities and plans without screens

Research the content of the video games your teen is playing

Talk to your teen about the game they are playing

