

Activities To Support Your

18-Month-Old's Development

Building blocks and Walking in a line: Help learn coordination and balancing

Freeze and Zig-zag walk: Promote social interaction and muscle development

Finding objects and Finding people in a photo album: Great for boosting memory skills

Joining the music and Stringing the guitar: Introduce various sounds and help develop tactile responses

Tracing drawings and Palm painting: Boost sensory and hand-eye coordination skills

Matching with a tag and Counting on fingers: Enhance language and basic mathematical skills

