

Home Management Of Pinworms In Babies

Follow the doctor's instructions on feeding the medicine for maximum effectiveness.

Shower your baby on the night they take medicine and the following day to get rid of the parasitic eggs.

Ensure all your family members are also treated, even if they are not infected, to prevent reinfection.

Clean your baby's clothes, sheets, and toys with hot water

Wash your baby's bottom after every nappy change to keep it clean.

Maintain personal hygiene by washing your hands before and after cleaning your baby.

References:

1. Threadworms (pinworms); HealthDirect
2. Threadworms; NHS