Safety Measures To Follow When Dating Online

Do your research about the quality of the dating site/app before registering on it.

Read the guidelines of the site/app carefully before signing up.

Do not reveal too much personal information on the site or during the first interaction.

Never encourage monetary transactions or sharing your financial information.

Report any suspicious or unfavorable activity or behavior.

Inform someone from your friends or family about your whereabouts if going on a date.

MomJunction