Key Milestones Your Baby Reaches In Their First Year

They will develop accurate head control

They will make different sounds and utter small words

They will learn to sit and stand on their own

They will start to crawl and stand with support

They will begin feeding solids and various finger foods

They will develop their first pair of teeth

They will sleep for longer hours during the night

They will start tracking objects in their surroundings

Mom Junction