

Tips For Sending Love Messages To Wife

02:48 AM

Pair your message with a photo of completed chores that she asked you to do on her day out.

Don't send an emotional and thoughtful message with a lustful emoji or photo. It may make her cringe.

Randomly send her a romantic text when you are out with your buddies, and she's at home.

Feel the air between you, too, and don't send it if you just had a tense argument. It may irk her even more.

Click a picture of your wife when she isn't noticing and pair it with a message relevant to the photo, such as when she is taking care of the children or getting ready for your date.
