

HOW TOO MUCH SPACE CAN LEAD TO DISTANCE

Differences

Excess space between partners can lead to differences of opinion and conflicts in a relationship

Loss of physical intimacy

Staying away from each other for too long can result in losing the physical warmth and touch of each other

No emotional connection

Maintaining too much space and distance with your loved one may eventually create an emotional void in your romance

Mistrust and indifference

Too little communication between lovers for an extended period can lead to trust issues and an "I don't care" attitude
