

Points To Remember When Writing Love Poems

Start by reading a few classic love poems written by famous authors.

Choose a style of poetry that suits you the best.

Think about the feelings that you want to express.

Avoid using cliches or overused metaphors.

Include your personal references in the poem.

Proofread your poem before finally handing it over.

