

Possible Reasons For Shipping Breast Milk

If the lactating mother is traveling and has to leave her breastfeeding baby behind.

Surrogate mothers may ship breast milk to the baby's biological parents.

Non-lactating parents may receive breast milk from a donor.

If the mother is unable to lactate due to breastfeeding complications.

Milk may be shipped for babies who permanently do not have access to maternal care.

