

Express Your Love To Your FRIENDS With These Messages

Our friendship is a rare type of currency. It never depreciates, appreciates, and is acceptable in all countries, but it is available only to a lucky few friends like us.

Anything in excess is said to be bad. The only exception to this is our friendship.

I will stay friends with you at any cost. After all, our friendship is priceless.

The difference between living a good and great life lies in having awesome friends like you. I love you.

Our friendship is the reason my life is such a fantastic trip.

You blur the lines between friends and family because you are both for me.

