

How To Remove A SPLINTER From Your Toddler's Foot?

Ways to remove a splinter

Cover the splinter with cello tape and pull it out.

Use glue to remove splinters by applying it to the affected area, allowing it to dry, and peeling off.

Mix baking soda and water to make a paste, apply it to a bandage, and cover the affected area for 24 hours. The splinter will be visible and can be removed with a tweezer.

How to prevent your toddler from getting splinters?

Encourage your toddler to keep their shoes on to prevent splinters.

Check outdoor play equipment and repair any that may cause splinters.

Educate your toddler on hazardous objects such as glass or rough wooden toys.
