

Superhero Games

To Unleash Your

Child's Creativity

Treasure Hunt

Hide the treasure in a place your child cannot easily identify. You can give them clues on paper chits.

Catch the Villain

The child playing superhero should catch the one playing the villain with a hula hoop. The villain throws candies to release themselves from the superhero.

Superhero Jump

Lay pillows over the bed. Let the child jump over the pillows like a superhero.

Run Through the Hula Hoops

Spread hula hoops on the playground and ask kids to jump over them and reach the final hoop in minimal time.

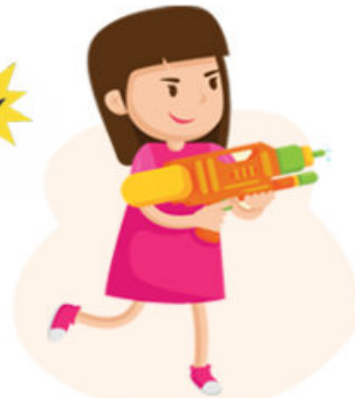

Bust Through a Wall

Make a wall using cardboard boxes. Ask the child to kick them like a superhero breaking apart a wall.

Bean Bag Attack

Paste an image of a villain on empty soda cans. Give the child a bean bag and ask them to hit the cans so they fall on the ground.

Shoot A Rocket Through A Hoop

Make a web of hoops, give your child a rocket gun, and guide them to aim and shoot the target through the hoops.

Crawling Through Tunnels

Place hoops vertically near one another and glue sheets of paper around them. Let the child crawl through the tunnel and come out.
