

Make Your Wife's Birthday Unforgettable

Schedule a spa appointment while considering her work and chores so that she can relax without worrying about anything.

Gift her customized special birthday jewelry or her birthstone with romantic words engraved on it.

Take her on a shopping spree and let her go all out on her special day, buying things that she may have added to her list but couldn't buy.

Contact her friends and surprise her with a day out with them, eating and having fun like in her college days.

Book a quiet cottage near a hill or a beach, whichever she likes the most, and spend a romantic day with each other.

Make her a feel-good basket with all her favorite things, such as chocolates, snacks, favorite magazines, perfume, cosmetics, DVDs of her favorite show,
