

How Different Cultures Guess

The Baby's Gender

Morocco

The pregnant women lay down, and someone would drop an insect on their stomachs. If it lands on its feet, it's a boy, and if it lands on its back, it's a girl.

Hungary

The parent-to-be has to poke a hole in a spider's web with their fingers. If the spider repairs the hole, it's a boy; if it doesn't, it's a girl.

Greece

Upon shining light into the pregnant woman's eyes, if one dot appears, it's a boy. If you see two dots, it's a girl.

France

If the mom-to-be steps with her right foot first, it indicates a baby boy. If she walks with her left foot first, she's carrying a baby girl.

Romania

Someone would sprinkle salt on the pregnant woman while she is sleeping. If she brushes her nose, she may be carrying a girl. If she touches her lower lip, she's having a boy.
