

DIY Tests To Check Pregnancy At Home

These test results are based on the reaction of the substance with the pregnancy HCG hormone in the urine.

Sugar pregnancy test

- Drop 1tbsp of urine on 1tbsp of sugar.
- If the sugar clumps, it's positive; if it dissolves, it's a negative test.

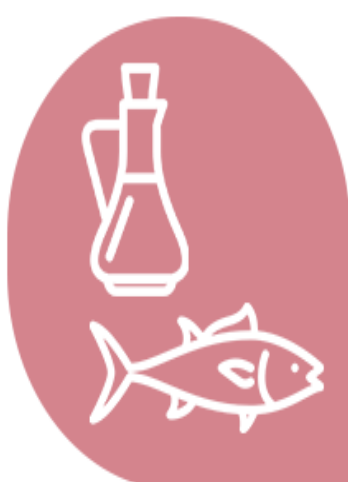

Soap pregnancy test

- Pour urine on a bar of soap and check the reaction.
- If it bubbles, you have a positive pregnancy test.

Pine-sol pregnancy test

- Pour a little bit of standard pine-sol into a cup.
- Add a urine sample to it. If the pine-sol changes color, it is a positive test.

Tuna and vinegar pregnancy test

- Mix equal amounts of tuna juice and vinegar in the container.
- Add half a cup of urine to it. A color change to green indicates a positive test, whereas a yellow color indicates a negative test.
