

Mistakes To Avoid

When Storing

Perfume Bottles

Storing them in bathroom closets can expose them to humidity.

Storing them near a window can expose them to temperature fluctuations.

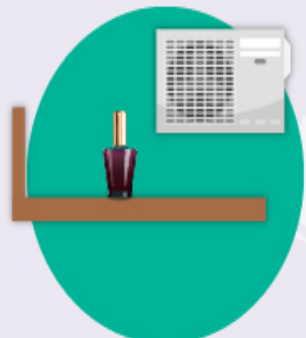

Storing them in the refrigerator can increase the risk of bottle breakage.

Not storing them in a shaded place can alter their color and fragrance.

Storing them on shelves near heat vents can affect their formulation.

Storing them on high shelves increases the risk of falls and shattering.

