

TIPS TO BRING BACK THE LOST LOVE AND Rebuild The Relationship

If you didn't already do this, ask her now about what's happening in her work-life that seems to be bothering her and if you can help.

If the monotonous lifestyle makes her lose interest, plan a trip to somewhere she always wanted to or an activity she had been asking you to go with.

Try to be close in a non-sexual way, such as asking to hold hands while talking, sitting beside her when she is worried, or just listening to her without interrupting.

If you feel you may be lacking in romance, explore new exciting ways to bring back the intimacy.

Use the power of words and express how you truly feel about her behavior and why you want both of you to be together.

Note: Remember, love cannot be forced. So, if she dislikes or is indifferent to your attempts, don't suffocate her into a relationship.
