

WAYS TO PIQUE CHILDREN'S INTEREST IN THE BIBLE

Keep a fixed time during the day, such as before bedtime or early morning, for a combined Bible study.

Narrate simple and easy-to-understand stories from the Bible for younger children.

Keep the Bible study interactive by asking and answering questions to keep them interested.

Play a fun round of Bible quizzes with interesting questions.

Occasionally give them an assignment of memorizing Bible verses and narrating them afterward.

Use visual representations such as an animated version of the Bible stories or DIY crafts to narrate the stories.
