How Positive Environment Supports Your Child's Development
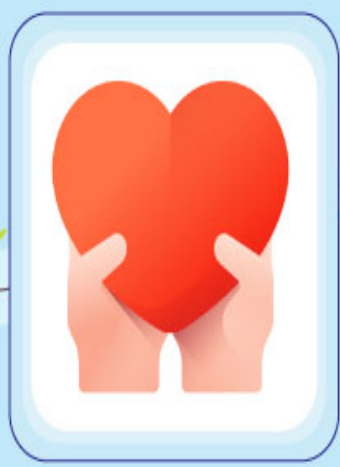

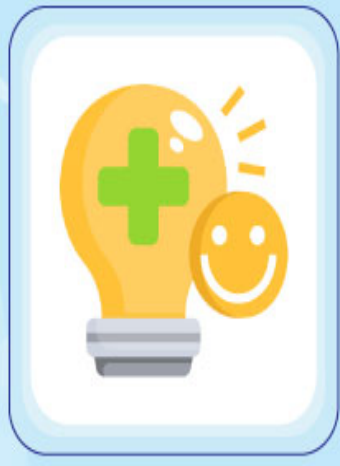

Makes them feel secure and confident

Nurtures child's personality positively

Teaches them to value others

Supports them in expressing love and respect

Promotes positive emotional development

Helps them concentrate on their studies

Creates opportunities for them to grow

Helps in skill development

MomJunction