

Questions To Ask Yourself Before Dating Someone With Children

Do I like children?

Do I want to be involved in parental duties?

Will they be able to take care of my needs along with their children?

Do they expect me to be like a parent or a friend to their children?

What boundaries should I set?

Did they go through an amicable or high-conflict breakup/divorce?

Will I get enough time to spend together?

Will they be interested in having more children with me?
