

Indicators That Express A Man's Interest In You

Keeps his phone away to avoid distractions. It means he is paying attention to you.

Touches his throat. This may indicate he is anxious when with you.

Grazes your forearm while talking.

Fiddles with his glass as a sign of either nervousness or attraction.

Changes his voice to a calmer and sweeter tone when talking to you.

Treats your possessions with respect. For example, gently handing you your coat.

Walks with you on the inside of the sidewalk. It is considered a protective behavior.

Blushes when you tease or compliment him. It shows he is nervous yet excited.

