

George Washington

Once Said...

"Be courteous to all, but intimate with few, and let those few be well tried before you give them your confidence. True friendship is a plant of slow growth, and must undergo and withstand the shocks of adversity before it is entitled to appellation."

"Perseverance and spirit have done wonders in all ages."

"99% of failures come from people who make excuses."

"Associate yourself with men of good quality, if you esteem your own reputation; for 'tis better to be alone than in bad company."

"We should not look back unless it is to derive useful lessons from past errors, and for the purpose of profiting by dearly bought experience."

"Be not glad at the misfortune of another, though he may be your enemy."

"Strive not with your superiors in argument, but always submit your judgment to others with modesty."
