

Does She Like Me? Find Out Through These Signs

She finds reasons to touch you and be near you.

She doesn't wait for you to contact her and is often the first to text or call.

She is nervous around you and sometimes may even become awkward in conversations.

She flirts with you through her open body language, such as batting her eyes at you and fiddling with her hair.

She tells you about her future, such as trips or plans, because she wants you to know her.

She compliments you and notices even minor changes in your style.

She pays attention to you and listens to you intently.

She discusses personal matters with you and seeks your opinion.

