

When Can Going On A 2ND Date Be A Good Idea?

You had a lot in common, and the conversation was interesting.

They were polite and respectful towards you.

There was no awkward moment, and you felt comfortable.

They fit your idea of an ideal partner and have the desired qualities.

Their flirty ways made you blush and feel desirable.

Their behavior toward the people around them, such as the waiters or the elderly, was polite.

You have been texting back and forth since the first date, and they have expressed interest too.

