

PARTY GAMES

For Teens To Double The Fun

Balloon Stomp

- Make two teams or let everyone play individually.
- Use a lengthy thread to tie the balloons to the players' legs.
- On the say "go," the players have to stomp on the other party's balloons.
- The player whose balloon remains unpoped, wins.

Act it Out

- Make two teams with equal players. Call one player from each team at a time to pick a paper chit.
- Now the player has to enact the content mentioned in the chit without saying anything.
- Once the team guesses "right" or "wrong," the other team will have the chance to play.
- At the end of specific rounds, the team with more right guesses wins.

Knockdown

- Set the party cups or cans in the shape of a pyramid or other structure.
- Ask the players to throw a sponge ball or any light ball toward the pyramid from a distance.
- Players must use the fewest balls possible to knock all of the cups or cans to the ground.
- Each player is given at least three chances to hit the structure.
