Turn Offs for Women

Getting too touchy

Avoid too much PDA or getting too touchy. Let her drop the subtle hints, and then make your move.

Buzz, beep, tring

Distractions are a BIG turn-off. Save all your attention for her when with her.

Boorish behavior

Being a gentleman never goes out of style. Don't forget to use your "thank you," "please," and "sorry" generously when talking to an attendee, waiter, janitor, or anybody.

Foul Smell

A sweaty footballer may turn her on, but getting physically closer to these odors is a big NO for most women. Take that shower, chew that mint, and use that deodorant.

The Ex-factor

Talking about the ex (all the time) can be hurtful. Keep that talk short and crisp.

A bad pickup line

A sense of humor is a plus - when the joke is actually funny. Trying too hard to come up with a good line may, at times, backfire.

Show-off

No one likes a bragger. Be real, be you.

Always talking about physical intimacy

Take it easy; go slow. Let it occur to both of you organically.

Selfish in bed

Make her feel comfortable and understand her needs. Being a giver will most likely earn you a second date with her.
