

How Does Your Ex Feel When You

BLOCK THEM?

🔒 BLOCKED

They may feel lost and confused if this happens without any closure or valid reason.

They may try to contact you out of curiosity or for a second chance through someone else.

If it was a mutual breakup, they might feel relieved to be finally able to move on.

They may try to catch your attention through a mutual friend by pretending to move on to make you jealous.

If they were somewhat toxic, their ego would be hurt, and they may try to make a scene at your home or workplace.

They may not even realize that you've blocked them if they have already become distant and found someone else.
