

Where To Say I Love You To Your Partner?

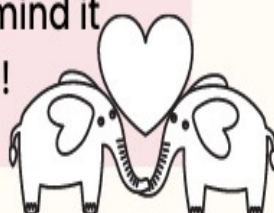

Whisper it in their ears while holding hands and looking at a beautiful exhibit at an art gallery.

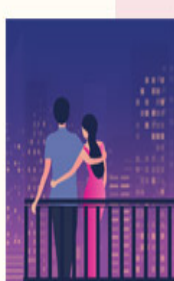

Say it in a funny yet assuring tone before going on a thrilling roller coaster ride to make them laugh and love you even more.

Hug them tight while visiting a funny, scary house at a theme park and shout "I love you"; no one will mind it since everyone is scared!

Go for a romantic classic in a movie theater and tell them you love them when the famous kiss scene comes up.

Call them to the balcony to show the moon, stars, or something interesting in the sky, and after that, plant a kiss and say, "I love you."

If all your clothes are in the laundry, ask them if you can wear their T-shirt for a day and if they say "Yes," hug them and say "I love you."
