

Benefits Of Vernix Caseosa For The Baby

During And After Birth

The antimicrobial properties protect the baby from any potential infections.

Acts as a lubricant for the birth canal to reduce friction during vaginal delivery.

Regulate the body temperature of newborns.

Moisturizes the newborn's skin, preventing dryness and cracking of the skin.

Enhance the healing of skin wounds that may have occurred during birth.

Provide the newborn's skin with antioxidant properties for protection.