

Falling In Love With The Wrong People

What makes you fall for difficult people?

The overwhelming feeling of loneliness makes you settle for just anyone.

The physical attraction overpowers the emotional connection.

Your insecurities have lowered your confidence and clouded your judgment.

Your love compels you to try to change them into someone better.

How to stop falling for toxic people?

Begin by pampering and loving yourself with good clothes, food, and a healthy lifestyle.

Get rid of your loneliness by enrolling in group activities and reaching out to old friends.

When on dates, don't ignore the red flags or consult your friends in case of doubts.

Have patience. Remember, waiting for the right person for a long time is better than living with the wrong person for a lifetime.